

Transcript 文字稿:

This is a well-travelled football!

Identified thanks to the names written on it, the ball was set adrift by the tsunami that hit Japan over a year ago. It was washed ashore in Alaska!

Its proud owner is Misaki Murakami: he received this treasured possession from his school mates when he got transferred to another school. The teenager became a minor celebrity after it was located.

Vocabulary 词汇:

well-travelled	浪迹天涯的，游走过很多国家的
set adrift	使某物随波漂流
washed ashore	冲到岸上
possession	东西，财产
was located	被找到

中文文字稿:

这可是一只游走过多个国家的足球！

根据球上写的名字，人们发现这只足球是一年前在日本海啸时被冲入大海。最后在被冲上了美国的阿拉斯加的海岸！

它的骄傲的主人是 Misaki Murakami: 这是他在转校时同学们送给他的礼物。这个足球的发现使他在当地小有名气。

Watch this video online: Football crosses ocean <http://bbc.in/l4ZPrK>

Exercise 练习:

以下练习中的语句全部选自于 BBC 其他网页。

请从下面的词汇表里选择答案来完成句子。

注意：你可能需要改变单词的时态来完成句子。

well-travelled / set adrift / washed ashore / possession / located

1. By the end of the morning, dozens of boxes have _____, and fishermen run around trying to gather as many as possible.
2. The explorer who _____ the wreck of the Titanic nearly 30 years ago says more needs to be done to protect it from damage.
3. Last month around a thousand Rohingyas were towed out to sea and _____ by the Thai military, said survivors who reached India and Indonesia.
4. Seventy-year-old Mohammed Islamta arranges his few meagre _____ carefully in the dust: a mat, a cooking pot and traditional Tuareg tea-pot and stove, the only things he managed to bring as he fled his home near Menaka in Mali just over a month ago.
5. They are _____ - in reality as well as in cyberspace - and are familiar with different societies and different ways of doing politics.

Answers 答案:

1. By the end of the morning, dozens of boxes have washed ashore, and fishermen run around trying to gather as many as possible.
2. The explorer who located the wreck of the Titanic nearly 30 years ago says more needs to be done to protect it from damage.
3. Last month around a thousand Rohingyas were towed out to sea and set adrift by the Thai military, said survivors who reached India and Indonesia.
4. Seventy-year-old Mohammed Islamta arranges his few meagre possessions carefully in the dust: a mat, a cooking pot and traditional Tuareg tea-pot and stove, the only things he managed to bring as he fled his home near Menaka in Mali just over a month ago.
5. They are well-travelled - in reality as well as in cyberspace - and are familiar with different societies and different ways of doing politics.